

MAKES PLEA FOR CORPORATIONS

Address of Federal Judge Peter Grosscup Before Chautauqua Assembly.

CRITICISM OF ROOSEVELT

THINKS MR. BRYAN ALSO FALLS SHORT.

Ottawa, Kan., June 22.—Judge Peter Grosscup of Chicago, of the United States court of appeals, delivered an address here today at the Ottawa Chautauqua, dealing with corporations.

Judge Grosscup spoke of the great industrial growth in this country since the civil war. He told how the new life had grown beyond the means of the single individual to handle its enterprises, and the consequent appearance of corporations, which latter grew in proportions as the new life grew, "until today, in spite of popular resentment at wrongs done, in spite of natural jealousy, in spite of drastic anti-trust laws, the corporation, as an instrument of working out our commercial and industrial supremacy, is itself almost supreme."

Should Be Made to Obey Law.

"A constant duty, of course," he said, "is to see to it that the particular corporations that are breaking the law be made to obey the law. To the full extent that the national administration, since the war, has been able to do, it has been making public opinion to remain behind it. But if the administration and the legislative leaders think that, in the Alpha and Omega of what is needed—if they think that the disease will be reached and eradicated solely through continuous campaigns against this or that incorporated enterprise, as if the corporation, in itself, as the embodiment of modern enterprise, were some alien enemy—I entirely dissent from them."

Agrees and Dissents.

"When Mr. Bryan denounces the particular corporations that by discrimination or favoritism succeeded in suppressing competitors, or that unjustly oppress the public, I agree with him. Every species of device that puts it within the power of an outside party to choose which of two or more competitors shall succeed and which shall fail, is a crime against the first principle of American business life—equality of opportunity. But when Mr. Bryan, as the already chosen leader of the Democratic party, goes further than this—when he confuses what, under a just corporate policy, corporate enterprise could become, with the particular corporations that have abused their opportunities, I dissent again."

Incorporation Not a Sin.

"The incorporation of enterprise is not in itself a sin. The incorporation of enterprise has proven itself over and over again one of the great essential agencies of social progress and prosperity. Through it the competition in many lines has been unfairly and cruelly suppressed; competition in many lines almost destroyed. But the cause of this is not to be found in the fact that men have been allowed to incorporate. The chief cause is in the fact that under our present corporate policy the power to raise up competitors, to rehabilitate the corporation, to put it to rest to its character and responsibility, that the people may come back into the ownership of the country's industrial properties. For until this is done, all opportunity for new or competitive enterprise will be in the hands of those who already have a monopoly of the field."

Plea for the Individual.

In closing, Judge Grosscup said: "The message that I come to deliver is to urge the people of this state to take the lead in giving to the new industrial life of the Union an embodiment in law, instead of losing sight of, will again lift up to his rightful place in his country's prosperity the individual man."

OPERATORS ARRESTED FOR VIOLATING LAW

Fort Smith, Ark., June 22.—Word was received here today that the officials of the Bohn-Darnell company at Hartford, Ark., had been arrested at the instance of some of the miners on a charge of violating the state mine law, better known as the mine-law law. The hearing has been set for Tuesday next, and the indications are that the matter will be taken to the supreme court by the operators on a writ of habeas corpus to have the question settled immediately. The suits grew out of the recent revolt at Hartford, though the miners returned to work upon instructions from the district attorney. The mine workers' union, the miners say they cannot work under the Kansas City agreement without violating the law.

FARMERS MURDERED BY INSANE STRANGER

Guthrie, Okla., June 22.—A special to the State Capital from Guthrie, Okla., says James Locke and John Wallace, prominent farmers, were held up and murdered on the road between Foss and Arapahoe today. The man who is alleged to have committed the crime is under arrest. He is thought to be insane.

A stranger hired Locke to drive him across the country during the morning. Locke invited Wallace to accompany them for company. When the trio was passing a house three miles from Arapahoe the stranger, without warning, drew a revolver and shot both his companions. He then turned around, drove to Foss and sauntered about until apprehended.

LARGE SUM INVOLVED.

Suit Over the Estate of the Late Charles G. Haddock.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 22.—The hope of proving title to and gaining possession of $1,000,000 worth of real and personal property in Los Angeles, Catalina Island, Chicago and Kern, Placer and Shasta counties, California, Frank D. Haddock, formerly a Fresno newspaper man, and Mrs. Sarah Haddock Whitsett, his sister, have brought a sensational suit in the superior court of this county against their step-mother, Mrs. Cynthia Willett Haddock, widow of the late millionaire Chicagoan, Charles G. Haddock. Frank Haddock and Mrs. Whitsett allege that after the death of his first wife (their grandmother), Charles Haddock fell into the snares of Chicago spirit mediums, who, under the guise of the "directing hand," told the man to deed away $1,000,000 worth of city and suburban property and personal effects.

The defendants to the suit deny flatly the charges and gainsay the blood relationship of the plaintiffs to the dead millionaire.

BROUGHT DAMAGE SUIT

CASE TAKEN OUT OF HANDS OF JURY.

Denver, June 22.—Judge R. E. Lewis, in the United States district court today, dismissed the suit of Michael Gibbon, former police magistrate of Victor, Colo., for $30,000 damages against L. E. Hill, Nelson Franklin, F. M. Woods and H. McLaughlin, the military commission appointed by Sherman Bell, adjutant general of the Colorado National Guard, to investigate the cases of prisoners who were thrown into the bullpen during the labor war of 1904 in the Cripple Creek mining district.

Gibbon accused the defendants of conspiracy to compel him to resign his office and of false arrest and imprisonment.

"I chose the military commission," said General Bell. "They were responsible solely to me. They had no right to order arrest. Their duty was to examine the case of every man in the bullpen and then advise me. I did not have to accept their advice. If I thought right, I discharged the man; if not, he stayed in the pen. Their duties were solely advisory."

Case Dismissed.

After hearing this statement Judge Lewis said:

"It will not be necessary, gentlemen, for this case to proceed any further. Under the constitution and statutes of Colorado the governor of this state was and is vested with discretionary power to declare martial law for the purpose of putting down insurrection and suppressing anarchy, and he was the sole judge as to whether the facts justified the declaration of martial law. When martial law has been declared the militia may lawfully arrest and detain any citizen for the purpose of restoring peace and order, but they may not act arbitrarily nor use more force than is necessary. And if the power of the militia in the same manner of oppression and a citizen is thereby injured, such citizen has a cause of action against those inflicting the injury."

Bell's Testimony Settled It.

"If there were facts in this case, gentlemen of the jury on which I could permit a verdict to stand in favor of the plaintiff on the theory and on the theory only, that this arrest and incarceration was not an act of the militia, acting themselves, but was brought about by the instigation by the defendants, or any others in this case, then I would submit the case for your consideration on the facts as to whether or not they were true. But under the testimony of the witness now on the stand—and there is no testimony contradicting it—it is said that this commission that was appointed as advisory to the military authorities could not arrest or detain. Military power was supreme; it dominated, usurped and displaced every other governmental function in that dispute, and there is no evidence in this case on which I could permit a submission of the question to you as to whether or not this arrest and incarceration was brought about by the instigation of the defendants and not by the action of the militia itself."

Innocent Must Suffer.

"It may be that this plaintiff ought not to have been arrested. There cannot be a case of martial law, a military rule, to suppress a riot and insurrection that the rights of some persons are not trampled upon. But unless those who arrested him and incarcerated him under those conditions admit it in the same manner, the general purpose of suppressing anarchy, but for the purpose of wreaking some spite or animosity against the individual, he has no recourse and no cause of action."

"Your verdict, gentlemen, will be entered in favor of the defendant. Gibbons had complained that he was thrown into the bullpen at the instigation of the military commission, without any cause, and was compelled to sign away his office of police magistrate. He is one of many who were compelled to give up their offices in the same manner, and his was in the nature of a test case."

SYMPATHY OF THE SENATE

Joint Resolution in Behalf of the Russian Jews.

Washington, June 22.—The senate today adopted the following joint resolution:

"That the people of the United States are horrified by the reports of the massacre of Hebrews in Russia on account of their race and religion, and that those bereaved thereby have the hearty sympathy of the people of this country."

The resolution was introduced by Senator McLaughlin of Mississippi, who asked immediate consideration.

Senator Lodge asked for time to examine the document, and after doing so announced his approval.

The resolution was then adopted without debate. As it is a joint resolution it will be necessary for it to be acted upon by the house and signed by the president to be a complete legislative act.

SECRET SERVICE MEN ON WILD GOOSE CHASE

Portland, Ore., June 22.—In a leading article today the Evening Telegram ridicules the work of the secret service agents who have been in this city investigating alleged anarchistic organizations. The Telegram asserts that literature seized by the secret service and forwarded to Washington is not anarchistic in its nature and consists of various political writings, historical and biographical, and hymns and the official weekly publication of the Polish National Alliance. The Telegram says that the talk of an anarchistic plot to assassinate President Roosevelt originated with an ignorant and disgruntled Pole seeking revenge for ostracism by his own people.
